V. DISCUSSION ITEMS

a. Parks and Recreation Youth Services Program Updates: Robert Nunez provided a brief introduction of his experience with the City of Las Cruces Parks and Recreation Department. He provided a PowerPoint presentation of the youth services program. This presentation provided a detailed staffing breakdown. Mr. Nunez discussed the out of school programs and the attendance level of each. The After-School programs located at schools throughout Las Cruces has 248 kids registered and participating. This number is down from approximately 500 youth. The Safe Haven currently has 60 participants. The Safe Haven provides services to kids K-5th grade from 2:30pm-6:00pm on school days and from 7:30am-6:00pm on non-school days, and during the summer, 8:30am-4:30pm. Mr. Nunez advised the services staff provide to students during these times. Mr. Nunez discussed cost of programs. Summer Recreation has room for 225 kids K-6th grade. Teen Connection allows for 60 teens 6th -12th grade. The schedule for the programs runs 3:30-8pm during the school year and 11:00am-6:00pm in the summer. The other programs available are the Youth Development and Diversion, Keep Las Cruces Beautiful, and Las Cruces Youth Board. The Youth Development and Diversion is the new branding for the Juvenile Citation Program for class three citation youth. The participation numbers in 2020 were 140 and 375 in FY19. In FY14, almost 800 youth went through the program. This is a diversion program to keep youth out of the system, divert them from the courts, put them through an educational program, and have them participate in community service. The Keep Las Cruces Beautiful program had 3000 volunteers and 10,000 hours of community beautification projects prior to the pandemic. This program also has LIBBY the Green Dog. The Las Cruces Youth Board consists of 16 members grades 8th-12th. Parks and Recreation is working on creating a new panel of board members now. Mr. Nunez provided a list of partners that assist with these programs. Mr. Nunez discussed the budget for these programs which includes funding and in-kind. Dr. Fraune asked if there are any tracking mechanisms in place to monitor success in addition to the attendance tracking that is being done. Mr. Nunez advised that in performance management, staff are keeping track on how youth are transitioning through the programs. Councilor Vasquez asked about what the needs of our youth are and what the City could be doing to support these needs. Mr. Nunez said the goal is to evolve and work together with our community partners to gather our resources to provide the best services possible. Mr. Nunez said that he would like to be able to have a teen facility for youth. Councilor Vasquez detailed his involvement and interest in this idea. Rebecca Slaughter inquired about potential issues with having gender-based Youth Development and Diversion classes. Mr. Nunez advised that evidence-based, these programs work. He added that this is a situation that will come up more and that staff will have to look outside the box to address. Chairwoman Abeyta-Stuve asked specifically what the protocol is when youth member is trans or non-binary to make sure we are adapting to those needs. Mr. Nunez advised that within the program, staff work with the family and the youth to select the program that they feel the most comfortable in. Chairwoman Abeyta-Stuve asked if there are wait lists for after school programs. Mr. Nunez advised there are and detailed which locations where the wait lists exist.

b. The Big Read Program Presentation: Margaret Neill provided background on the how the program came to be. Joy Harjo, the U.S. poet laureate, and her book, An American Sunrise, are the main event. Ms. Harjo will be in Las Cruces and will be a part of various events throughout The Big Read to include a book reading, a book signing, and a Q&A session. This is the second Big Read this year, which is not typical for a library. The library and the museums are working together on this project. In addition to the events with Joy Harjo, there are numerous events relevant to the topic throughout the program. Ms. Neill listed various programs to the committee, and she provided direction on how to access the list of events for the program on the City website. Councilor Vasquez thanked everyone involved in bringing this to Las Cruces. Chairwoman Abeyta-Stuve asked about how this program is being promoted. Ms. Slaughter detailed the steady marketing efforts that are occurring with the assistance of the Communications Office. Chairwoman Abeyta-Stuve and Councilor Vasquez offered Council’s assistance with any needs the department may have in promoting the program.
